Poppy: Just Right for So Many Spaces

Today's thinkers, creators, and doers seek meaningful spaces that comfortably support collaborative, as well as individual work, contemplation—or just a little “me time.”

Created by world-renown designer Patricia Urquiola, Poppy® guest and lounge chairs accommodate a variety of moods and needs, with a comforting warmth that invites people to have a seat.

Patricia Urquiola is loved around the world for her designs. A keen observer of what people want and how they behave in different settings, Patricia is an ideal collaborator for Haworth and has designed a range of our products, including Poppy chairs, GAN rugs, Pip™ personal laptop table, and the Openest® collection.

Pick the Perfect Poppy

For people looking for a place to sit, work, or connect, Poppy is always welcoming and straightforward. But for designers and planners, the subtle differences in base, swivel, size, and other options offer a wide range of specification variety. How do you choose?

To help you create picture-perfect spaces that offer choice and support for the variety of activities people do at work, we've collected some of our favorite Poppy design ideas and tips. We hope they'll inspire even more ideas of your own.

The Poppy lounge chair is right at home with side and coffee tables, while the Poppy guest chair cozies up to a worksurface to create productive spaces for any type of work.

Private Offices

Private offices become more versatile and comfortable with the addition of a cozy conversation nook. Poppy's residential feel invites more relaxed meetings and offers a refreshing change of posture and perspective.

Place a pair of Poppy lounge chairs on a rug to create a comfortable spot for casual meetings or solo reading and reflection.

Collaboration Zones

Work is more mobile than ever, freeing people to seek a change of scene throughout the day. Poppy creates comfortable huddle destinations—open or secluded—that are conducive to conversation, group work, and informal meetings.

Using a few Poppy 5-star base guest chairs with attached tablets is a brilliant choice in open areas where you want seating for brainstorming, idea sharing, or digital presentations. With casters and 360° of swivel, people can easily rearrange seating and pivot as the focus or conversation moves. A highly adjustable tablet on each chair creates a large personal workspace for a laptop or taking notes.

Poppy guest chairs with the 4-star base are perfect for small meeting/collaboration areas. The chairs swivel for easy interaction with colleagues.

Lobby and Reception Spaces

Waiting is no longer empty time—unless you want it to be. Today’s lobbies and reception areas double as impromptu touchdown spots where people check email, update to-do lists, or indulge in a magazine. Poppy graciously welcomes them with style.

The Poppy lounge with a stationary basket base is a solid choice if you want to keep public spaces looking neat and tidy as people come and go.

In reception areas, placing Sprig™ tables next to or between Poppy chairs provides people with a margin of personal space and a handy spot for a beverage.

To maximize space—yet provide people with comfortable seating—in tight reception areas, choose more compact Poppy guest chairs over Poppy lounge chairs.

Solo Enclaves

It's entirely possible to outstay your welcome, even at your own desk. Your body and mind may suddenly decide a change of scene—and seat—would do you good. Poppy is both plush and practical, blending the comfort of home with the focus of work.

Pair a Poppy lounge chair with an Openest Chick™ pouf in a cozy corner to create a comfortable getaway spot for working, contemplating, or just relaxing.
